

Non-Profit Spotlight

Message from the editors

In an effort to spotlight nonprofits around the greater Indianapolis area and those connected in some way to the School of Public and Environmental Affairs, publicINreview will include a Nonprofit Feature Piece in each publication. As a board of editors, we hope this feature piece will allow nonprofits to market their services, share their stories, and highlight their best practices while simultaneously educating and seeking to actively engage you, our readers, in the vibrant nonprofit sector available to you.

If you are a local nonprofit or a SPEA alumni who has founded a nationally or internationally based nonprofit and would like publicINreview to run a Nonprofit Feature Piece on your organization, please contact us at pubnrev@indiana.edu.
