Library Instruction/Orientation Success Stories

Do you have a library instruction or orientation success story? Do you know of someone else who is doing great things to promote information and library literacy? Examples might be term paper clinics, programs about how to find specific information, tours, instruction using the Internet, etc. Let us know.

The Bibliographic Instruction/User Education section of ILF is preparing the next issue of Indiana Libraries focusing on information literacy and library instruction. We're looking for ideas and we're looking for authors/contributors. Any ideas about library instruction, orientation, or literacy are welcome.

Please contact Emily Okada by March 4, 1997 with your ideas and suggestions or for more information.
