SECOND.

There should be some effective measures taken to check the wholesale breakage of glass in the public lamps of the city. The destruction of glass in the lamps on Meridian, Illinois and Pennsylvania streets, from Washington street north, has been very great within the past month. Not less than ten boxes of glass being used in repairing the lamps on said streets within the time stated. This is also the case with the lamps on Bates, Huron and Harrison streets, in the southeast portion of the city, and at these points the lamplighters, in several instances, were driven off and threatened with violence in case they undertook to discharge their duty. It is impossible to have the street lamps properly attended to, or kept in proper trim, if these things are allowed to continue. I am of the impression that if a standing reward of say $10.00 was offered for the arrest and conviction of any person caught throwing stones at, or near, any of the public lamps, or in anywise injuring the same, or of any person found interferring in any manner with the lamplighters in the discharge of their duty, that it would have a beneficial effect in suppressing the injury complained of.

Respectfully submitted.

The Board of Health submitted the following report:

Indianapolis, April 3, 1876.

To the Mayor and Common Council of the City of Indianapolis:

Gentlemen: -In view of the rapid increase of population here and the constantly increasing demands upon the Water Works Company, the Board of Health feel it their duty to make some suggestions to your honorable body in regard to the water supply of the city in the future, and the need of some legislation by which water of requisite purity may be secured in unlimited quantity. The Water Works wells have, so far, furnished sufficient water to meet all demands, and the quality is as good as that furnished in any of the larger cities of the country. But the increasing demands upon the company makes it certain that in another year or two, at farthest, a sufficient supply can only be secured by taking it directly from the river, with all its impurities, unless some steps are taken to remove the sources of contamination along the river and streams emptying into it above the Water Works. Pure water is an indispensible public and household necessity, and it is to be hoped that it may sometime be furnished in such quantities, and so distributed, that every family may avail themselves of the supply and abandon the nasty contaminated wells that suck up the drainage from privies and sewers. The only way to secure such a supply in the future is to compel all slaughtering establishments and companies handling and dealing in animal offal to remove to some point below the Water Works. The main part of the slaughtering, for the supply of the city, is now carried on above Washington street, on the west side of the river. In almost all the principal cities of the country, slaughtering within the corporate limits has been prohibited and abittoirs established. It can not be doubted that slaughter houses, located in populous districts, however carefully conducted, become offensive to the inhabitants; and here, where they are situated along the river, upon which we must ultimately depend for our water supply, they are open to serious sanitary objections. Slaughtering, bone boiling, rendering of fats and the manufacture of glue and soap should all be conducted in one neighborhood remote from population.

It is of scarcely less importance than the water supply that this city should have a well constructed abattoir, connected with an ample stock yard, where animals may rest from travel and recover from exhaustion, and above all, be inspected by competent judges for the purpose of detecting disease or unfitness for food previous to killing.

Respectfully,

A, STRATFORD,
C. E. WRIGHT,
Board of Health.

Which was referred to the Committee on Revision of Ordinances.
