Mr. Brown presented the following communication:

Indianapolis, April 17, 1871.

To the Mayor and Common Council of the City of Indianapolis:

Gentlemen—The undersigned respectfully represents that he has prepared with great care and exactness a Railroad map of the city of Indianapolis, showing the extraordinary advantages and wonderful facilities of our great and growing city as a railroad and business centre. Accompanying this map is a full description with valuable statistics, showing the unequalled advantages of our city as a business and manufacturing point over any city in the West.

Said map and description was published by the undersigned in his paper, the Journal of Commerce, and from the very large number of letters received by the undersigned, and the very general expression of satisfaction of the showing thus made of our city, he feels certain that by the circulation of said map and description the greatest advantages will and must result to our city.

In respectfully calling your attention to this matter, I wish at the same time to propose that an edition of 25,000 copies in English and 25,000 copies in German of said map, of which the undersigned has a "copy-right," and statistical description be published for general circulation among the business people of the United States and in the great centres of immigration.

If the City Council should feel favorably disposed with reference to this proposition, I will add that I will publish said edition, and will, under the superintendence and direction of a committee of your honorable body, attend to all the labor of mailing and distributing said edition, charging nothing therefor but the actual cost of paper, press work, types, wrapping, mailing and postage.

I will add further that I have made arrangements with the publishers of the German Telegraph Company, of this city, by which they have agreed to publish the German edition of said map and description at exactly the same terms, to-wit: first actual cost.

Very respectfully.

JNO. R. MORTON.

Which was adopted.

Mr. Cottrell presented the following petition:

Indianapolis, April 17, 1871.

To the Mayor and Common Council of the City of Indianapolis:

Your petitioner, Frederick Teine, would respectfully represent to your honorable body, that he is now, and has been for more than twelve years, a resident of the city of Indianapolis, Marion County Indiana; that he pays taxes on lot No. 11, in out-lot 29; that he is and has been a hard working, laboring man all the time, and has been able to pay his taxes until now, but is entirely unable to pay the same now, as he has been sick for near four years, and has been all that time, and is still unable to do any kind of work. He is married and father of five children living, the oldest of whom is near · fourteen years of age. His wife and oldest child have worked hard to make a scant living, but now even that has failed, as his wife has also been sick for the last two months, and there is no prospect of her being able to do much work for some time. Your petitioner would therefore pray your honorable body to aid and assist him, at least in so far as to remit the city taxes assessed against said lot, being all the little property held by him. And your petitioner as in duty bound will ever pray.

FREDERIC TEINE.

The undersigned, citizens and tax payers of Indianapolis are acquainted with the foregoing petitioner, and know the statements therein contained to be true, and if it was not for the hardworking of the wife and oldest child, the whole family would be reduced to nearly beggary, and we would therefore ask your honorable body, not only as an act of humanity, but of justice and right, to grant the petitioner the relief asked for in his betition. We would also ask that you relieve him from the street assessment.

PHILLIP HOFFMAN. STEPHEN CONNER. F. J. JONES. G. W. McCLURE. And 8 others.

An Ordinance to provide for the repeal of an ordinance entitled, "An Ordinance to provide for grading Merrill street, between Illinois and Missouri Streets, and for placing on such graded street cinders from the Indianapolis rolling mill."

Which was read the first time.

Dr. Woodburn presented the following petition:

Indianapolis, April 10, 1871.

To the Mayor and Common Council of the City of Indianapolis:

Gentlemen—When I paid the tax on the real estate, assessed in the name of Emerine A. Motheshead, for 1867. I objected to the payment of the tax levied on $6,486 of personal property, because she had been dead more than a year before this assessment had been made. And besides, if she had at the time of her death, in 1866, any personal property, it fell to her only heir who, at the time this property was assessed was an inhabitant of the State of Illinois, and has continued to reside there up to the present time. And, besides, we consider the manner of returning the property for taxation illegal. A copy of this assessment was carried into the books of the County Treasury and was, by order of the County Commissioners stricken out.

Can that assessment be legal which fails to designate what property is returned for taxation? What property can it be? Is it household goods? Notes of hand? Railroad stock? Plank road stock? or Gas Company stock. There is nothing in the return to show what it is.

But by examining the report made by the executor of her estate to the Probate Court, we find that of the $6,486 of personal property there was

27 shares of I. & C. Railroad stock	00
8 shares Terre Haute Railroad stock	00
Gas Co. stock certificates	38
Central Plank Road stock	00
Brownsburg Plank Road stock	25
City Orders	50

And about $3,710 of notes, of which $2,365.13 were paid to the heir before the tax upon the same become payable.

I have heretofore applied to the Council for relief in this matter—but I had not at that time the means of exhibiting the items which were returned to the assessor for taxation. Now, as the Council can see the injustice of the tax, I hope they will order it to be refunded to me. And I shall ever pray, &c.

L. B. WILSON.

Which was referred to the Committee on Finance and City Attorney.
