To the Mayor and Common Council of the City of Indianapolis :

GENTLEMEN—The following motion in regard to the action of the Common Council on the bond of John Whitsit, in reference to his constructing of the tunnel under the railroad tracks on South Illinois street, has been handed me :

Moved : "That the matter lay over for one week, and that it be referred to the City Attorney for his opinion, as to whether or not the City Council has power to reject the bond, provided the security be sufficient."

The question presented is purely an exclusive one of order, and a question which his Honor, the Mayor, is competent to decide, subject to an appeal to the Common Council.

Perhaps I ought to stop here, but as I am required to give an opinion, I will say that upon the presentation of Mr. Whitsits bond, the question would be upon the approving of the bond, but other questions might be interposed, such as motions to reject the bond, to lay it on the table, to postpone it to a day certain, to postpone the consideration of the bond indefinitely, when it could not be voted on under Rule 17, of the Common Council, during this or the next two succeeding meetings, and to commit, no member is bound to give a reason for his actions.

The bond must, I think under your rules, be disposed of in some one of the ways above indicated, before any other business would be in order.

Respectfully submitted,

J. S. HARVEY,

City Attorney.

Which was adopted.

Mr. Brown presented the following petition :

INDIANAPOLIS, March 18, 1872.

To the Mayor and Common Council of the City of Indianapolis :

GENTLEMEN--Your petitioner, Barnabas Coffin, respectfully shows: that the ordinance passed by the Common Council on the 4th day of March, 1872, works great injustice to him and other citizens, and strikes a severe blow at the most important commercial interest of the city.

The ordinance provides that no building shall be erected, fitted up or used in said city, for slaughtering, dressing, or packing any cattle, calves, sheep or swine, except on the immediate bank of White River, and now used for such purpose, * * without a special ordinance regularly passed therefor by said Council; and provided that no such ordinance shall be enacted unless petitioned for by a majority of the voters of the ward wherein such buildings are proposed to be fitted up, erected or used; * * nor shall any owner or occupier of any house already constructed or used for the purposes aforesaid, at any place or point in the city, alter, rebuild, repair, or enlarge the same, or make any additions thereto, until an ordinance is passed therefor by the Council in like manner and upon petition, as above set forth."

The effect of this ordinance is to prevent the business of slaughtering and packing of cattle and swine from being carried on in the limits of the city, except upon a petition of a majority of the voters living in the part of the city where the same is carried on.

Your petitioner shows that this business employs more capital than any one of the manufacturing interests of the city, and contributes more to the growth and prosperity of the city than any other branch of business. It has built up Cincinnati, contributed largely to the upbuilding of Chicago, and the interests of Indianapolis require that it should be encouraged and fostered, and not destroyed or driven elsewhere by hostile legislation.

While the business may be so conducted as to make it a nuisance, it is not necessarily so; and in other cities, as Cincinnati, St. Louis and Buffalo, under proper regulations, it is carried on in the midst of densely populated districts, upon the principal streets, without being noxious or offensive.

Your petitioner shows that he has a large amount of capital invested in his pork house on Blake street, which is provided with railroad switches, and other necessary appliances for carrying on said business; and that this ordinance deprives him of the right to use his property, and destroys his business, and prevents him from making any improvements, alterations or repairs in his pork house, without a hearing, or even an opportunity of being heard in his own behalf.

Your petitioner further shows, that there is no other location that he can obtain on the banks of White River, without almost destroying the commercial value of his business, and that his present location is in every way suitable for carrying on such business, and has been used for that purpose, without interruption, for a period of twenty-five years.

Your petitioner proposes to alter and repair his present building, by adopting all modern improvements, such as are used in other cities, so as to remove all reasonable cause of complaint or offense to persons living in the vicinity thereof; and is willing to comply with all reasonable regulations that may be prescribed by the Council to prevent such business from being in any way noxious or offensive. He proposes, if required, to bind himself in such sum as the Council may require, to remove all the offal of every kind and description daily; to carry all the gases that may escape from the tanks by pipes through the smoke-stack, by which they are neutralized; to carry the water used in scalding and washing by pipes into the bed of White river; to cause all the blood, except a small per cent which escapes with the water used in washing, to be tanked and hauled away daily; and he prays the Council to modify the ordinance above set forth so that it will fully protect the rights of other citizens without destroying the business and property of petitioner, and without affecting injuriously the most important commercial interest of the city; and he asks to be allowed to make such alterations in his present building, as above specified, as will remove all cause of complaint.

BARNABAS COFFIN.

We the undersigned, citizens of Indianapolis, join with Barnabas Coffin in the foregoing petition, and pray that the ordinance therein set forth may be modified as therein suggested.

An Ordinance to amend an ordinance entitled, "An ordinance to repeal a part of an ordinance heretofore passed in relation to slaughter houses," ordained March 4th, 1872, and repeal part thereof, and all ordinances in conflict herewith,

Which was read the first time.

Mr. Thalman presented the following remonstrance :

INDIANAPOLIS, March 18, 1872.

To the Mayor and Common Council of the City of Indianapolis :

GENTLEMEN—The property owners and residents of the Fourth Ward respectfully, but earnestly protest against the repeal of the ordinance, recently enacted, concerning slaughter houses. We respectfully ask leave to call attention to a few of the many glaring errors contained in the petition of Barnabas Coffin, it is proper, at the onset, to call your attention to the fact that not more than ten, at the most, of the signers of that petition have any personal knowledge of the business carried on by Mr. Coffin and the manner in which it has been conducted, upon the most material matters, it is but the statement of Mr. Coffin, reiterated by others. We do know from our own personal knowledge that it is, and has been, an intolerable nuisance, filling the air with noxious stenches, and poisoning the water of the vicinity, upon this proposition we defy successful contradiction. It is not just for others living remote from this nuisance to make statements upon the authority of interested parties, and thus fasten upon us a most outrageous nuisance.

It is an unfair inference when it is inferred that because a slaughter house is prohibited in a certain locality, that it is a blow to the entire trade. It is far from this, it is simply saying that the people of a populous neighborhood shall not be required to suffer from a slaughter house, located in a situation in every way unsuitable.

We further represent that the promises made by the owners again, and again have been violated, that it would be an act of flagrant injustice to take them again.

That it is neither just nor expedient to experiment for the benefit of a few at the expense of hundreds of good, law abiding citizens, that this is just what Barnabis Coffin asks you to do. If experiments must be made, let them be made in the other permanent structures already erected.

That the proffer of a bond by Barnabis Coffin amounts to nothing, because a bond to indemnify against an illegal act is utterly void; that if it were valid, the men who are most interested, have not the means to litigate with the wealthy gentlemen who are interested in this slaughter house.

That the buildings now on the premises are worth but a few hundred dollars, and that the land will appreciate five times the value of these buildings if the slaughtering business is prohibited, the owners will gain not lose.

That the long continuance of the business has been in defiance of the wishes of the residents of that vicinity, and only allowed because of promises which you are now asked to assist in violating.

That to place, as the petitioner does, a slaughtering establishment upon an equal footing with manufacturers generally, every one knows, is utterly and entirely unwarranted. To state the proposition that to oppose a slaughter house is to oppose the manufacturing interest generally, is to expose its utter absurdity, with as much propriety it might be contended that one who opposes the establishment of swine yards on the corner of Washington and Meridian streets, opposes all manufacturers and all pork dealers.

That it is utterly and entirely impossible to carry on the business of slaughtering hogs in a populous neighborhood, and upon a stagnant pond, without creating offensive smells, creating sickness, or annoying the public, that this has never been done.

The statement that the pork trade contributes more to the growth of the city than any other branch of business, like most of the other statements of the petition, is wholly and entirely erroneous, as must be apparent to every member of your honorable body.

We therefore with greatest respect, but utmost earnestness, remonstrate against the repeal of the ordinance.

Which was received.

On motion by Mr. Wiles, the whole matter was made a special order of business for Thursday, March 21st, 1872, at 7½ o'clock P. M.

Mr. Brown introduced Special Ordinance No. 48, 1872, entitled :

An Ordinance to grade and gravel Union street, from the north side of Merrill street to Madison avenue,

Which was read the first time.

Mr. Cottrell introduced Special Ordinance No. 49, 1872, entitled :

An Ordinance to grade and pave with brick the east sidewalk of New Jersey street, from Pogue's Run to South street,

Whibh was read the first time.

Mr. Cottrell offered the following motion :

Moved: That the Street Commission be instructed to have the crossing of the street immediately south of the Junction railroad depot, where it crosses the sidewalk on New Jersey street, properly bouldered.

Which was adopted.

Mr. Craft presented the following communication :

INDIANAPOLIS, March 18, 1872.

To the Mayor and Common Council of the City of Indianapolis ;

GENTLEMEN—The undersigned would most respectfully say and show unto your honorable body that he is the owner of a grain elevator, situated upon the east side of Delaware street, near the crossing of the Union railway track of said city, which he has constructed at great expense, and is of the present value, as it is now situated, of about thirty thousand dollars ; and that said elevator is located upon ground he holds by virtue of a lease, renewable at his pleasure, of the Indiana Central Railway Company. That during the year 1871, and for each year several years previous thereto, the undersigned received by delivery from wagons at his elevator, by approach upon said Delaware street, about ten thousand wagan loads of grain per year, and there was delivered into wagons, which left his said elevator by way of Delaware street, over one thousand wagon loads of grain per year, making a total of traffic at his elevator during each year, through said street, of over three hundred and thirty thousand bushels of grain, not including shipments or receipts by means of railroad cars.

The undersigned further, most respectfully, shows unto this honorable body that he is informed the Committee of this Council have made, so far as they lawfully might, a location of the bridge to be built for said city upon said Delaware street over the Union railway tracks, and have located the same upon the side instead of the centre of the street, so that upon the east side of said street said bridge will be only nine feet from the curbstone of the east sidewalk, and in consequence of the street gutter will leave not only no room for wagons to pass each other, but will render the passage of single wagons inconvenient if not dangerous ; while upon the west side of said street a space of thirty-one feet is left between the curbstone of the sidewalk and the bridge. The undersigned would most respectfully say that even if said bridge could be legally located so that the middle line thereof should be upon the middle of the street, the erection thereof would cause him and his said business much damage, and that the location of the same upon the east side of the street would greatly increase such damage and greatly depreciate the value of his property, and very seriously effect if not ruin his business.

The undersigned would further, most respectfully, say that he is informed that this honorable body has never as yet adopted the location made by their said Committee.

The undersigned while properly appreciating the motives of the Council, in endeavoring to secure a safer transit of passengers over our city railroad crossings, yet does not concede the legal right of the city, after business has become established and capital invested upon faith of an uninterrupted use of a street, to so change the street as to injure the value of property and destroy the business so built up.

The undersigned therefore respectfully remonstrates against the erection of said bridge; and he especially remonstrates against such action upon the part of this honorable body as shall fix the location of said bridge so as unfairly and unjustly to discriminate against him in favor of property owners upon the opposite side of the street.

F. P. RUSSELL.

Which was referred to the Special Committee on the Delaware Street Bridge.

Mr. Gimber offered the following motion :

Moved : That Thomas Russell be allowed the privilege of cutting down the dead trees, and using the same, from the city lot on White river, commonly known as the dead animal burying ground.

Which was not adopted.

Also, the following motion :

Moved : That the Street Commissioner be and is hereby directed to build a fence or some kind of protection on the south side of Washington street, on the east side of the bridge on the lower arm of the canal.

Which was adopted.

Also, the following motion :

Moved: That the City Clerk be and the same is hereby directed to advertise for proposals for the construction of an "iron bridge," according to plans and specifications, of the City Civil Engineer, as the present bridge is in a dangerous condition, and not wide enough for the travel over that bridge; the said iron bridge is to be built over the lower arm of the canal on Washington street.

Mr. Craft offered the following motion :

Moved: That the Water Works Company be ordered to build a new bridge over the west arm of the canal.

Which were referred to the City Attorney.

Mr. Heckman presented the following order of vacation :

Comes now Henry Mankedick, President of the Board of Trustees of the German Protestant Orphan Association, and presents to the Common Council, of the city of Indianapolis, a petition praying for the vacation of certain alleys and lots therein named, which petition and the proper plat of said alleys and the surrounding premises was filed with the City Clerk on the 7th day of February, 1872. And which petition is in these words :
